

Two Die In Fall From Scaffold

Cite Negligence
Testimony presented by seven witnesses at the joint inquest for Mr. Wood and Mr. Dolan, held yesterday morning at Stone and Myers chapel, led the jury to ascribe the deaths as accidental and due to the negligence of Mr. Wood, who as foreman on the job, failed to take proper safety precautions in the erection of the scaffold. The jury was composed of L. James Jenkins, C. A. Drury, R. F. Howard, John E. Miller, Charles H. Law and John C. Husbands. Deputy Coroner Kane officiated.

That the scaffold was faulty in construction was asserted by Sergeant Ashton and J. O. Bishop, master mechanic at the National Supply, who introduced a drawing of the structure on which the men were working and described its construction. A. R. Townsend, Glendale, owner of the company employing the three men, asserted that while he could not say who was at fault, the men did not rig up the safety belts he said were always urged upon workers.

Mr. Woods is survived by a wife and daughter. His funeral services were to be held at Pierce Brothers in Los Angeles. Mr. Dolan, who his brother testified was the sole support of his parents, four brothers and two sisters, will be buried from Cunningham and O'Conner, Los Angeles morticians.

National Leaders Plan Gigantic Ball to Honor President and Raise Infantile Paralysis Fund

The nation's biggest social event, the celebration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary, is set for January 30, with more than 5,000 communities throughout the country planning parties to raise funds for the philanthropy closest to the Chief Executive's heart, and for infantile paralysis sufferers.

Colonel Henry L. Doherty, for the fourth year chairman of the national celebration, is being assisted by many of the country's foremost leaders in plans for the events. Among those on his committee are: Vincent Astor, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, Will H. Hays, Carl Byoir, general director, Colonel Edward M. House, Edsel B. Ford, Walter P. Chrysler, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Bishop

William T. Manning, Harvey S. Firestone, Keith Morgan, General John J. Pershing, Owen D. Young, Howard Chandler Christy, Charles G. Dawes and Admiral Cary T. Grayson.
Society leaders, radio, motion picture and theatrical stars are joining forces to make the celebrations, the greatest series of parties ever staged.

Meantime in cities, towns and hamlets throughout the nation millions of Americans are making preparations for parties that will eclipse in size and colorful entertainment those of any previous year.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Frances Hathaway, Coy Farquhar, Albert L. Owens and Birda Paddock. They want the cooperation of the entire community to make the Lomita ball an outstanding success.

WOULD BAN STOOLS
Because he believes bar stools encourage heavy drinking, Assemblyman Henry P. Meehan, of Oakland, will propose that the legislature pass a bill abolishing the use of stools or chairs at bars.

Court Dates Set For Car Thief

Following preliminary hearing Monday morning in Judge Frank H. Carrell's Gardena justice court, Eugene Cooper, 41, was bound over to superior court for arraignment Jan. 27 on a charge of hit-and-run driving. Cooper, former resident and Columbia Steel worker here, will be arraigned in superior court Jan. 20 for allegedly stealing C. W. Parks' sedan, parked near the steel plant, on Dec. 29.

The defendant, who has not yet engaged counsel, was returned to the county jail to await his court appearances. He has admitted the theft of Parks' car but denies the hit-and-run count. Cooper also insists that he did not take $30 in cash and a revolver belonging to Parks which were on the back seat of the car when it was taken here.

Publisher's Mother Succumbs Sunday

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Whyte, 82, of Flint, Mich., mother of Grover C. Whyte, editor-publisher of the Torrance Herald, passed away last Sunday afternoon at her home in Flint.

Another son, Walter, of Washington, D. C., and three daughters, all of Flint, survive.
While his mother has not been in good health for several years, the immediate cause of her death was due to a heart attack, following a severe cold and bronchial illness, Whyte states.

THE BUST OF A RESOLUTION

Says I to myself says I (as the old year turneth into 1937). "Several times of late I have, what for one reason or another, missed writing this bloomin' column but just wait until January the first and from then on . . . well, there just won't be any more misses!"
And with that I make me a swell, super-super resolution and what happens . . . !??? Why with the first issue of 1937 my pillar is nowhere to be found; to the naked eye I have found; BUT . . . where there's no column there's no reason . . . and mine is a runny nose, a crick in the back and a code in the head. This deplorable condition is often referred to as the pip, grut, etc., etc. But whatever it was I had it, and from my sick bed I pondered on the woes of a columnless world that had been denied the better things in journalistic literature, a world left as bleak and colorless as the street of Torrance after 7 p. m.

Now ain't that stumplin'! However, I hereby resolve to keep, hold and cherish Resolution No. 2 (the which I resolved to resolve only a few minutes ago) and from now on I'm here to stay!

RAZOR WINDFALL

George Morton, of the American Barber Shop, one dreary day before Xmas, seated in his chair an EXECUTIVE from one of the local industries. The man called for an electric shave (which George sells at two-bits a shock) and he liked it so well he ordered five (5) DOZEN of them at 15 bucks the throw. Seems he had some mighty good & great friends to whom must give Christmas presents.

George forthwith called into conference Alden W. Smith, of Howard's Jewelers, who ordered the clippers. Then they split the loot.

There is no moral in this story, only that it is rumored that George is going to put his barber shop in the front of Alden's jewelry emporium . . . or maybe it's the other way around.

COLD STORIES

The recent cold blast we've been struggling through (and it ain't over yet!) brought out some "different" tales:

Dave Jacobs, plumber, received his first call since he started forgetting his plumber's tools in Torrance, to hustle out and replace TWO split water faucets!

Bob Lowellen, of our plant, vowed he was right off going to buy some anti-freeze for his chariot.

Hammond's Filling Station reported that a frozen radiator steamed into their front yard early on the coldest morn and when they attempted to put water in it the pipes were frozen solid.

The atmosphere was so befogged with smudge that a good and deserving Democrat lost his way enroute to the postoffice to talk over the 1940 political situation with Earl Conner.

And what poor housewife didn't have her poor, pet plants friz right down to the ground.

LOCAL CUT-UP

Observing Jake Leplin the other day as he neatly swished the shears through a big chunk of cloth, I asked him how he always knew just where to snip. Said Jake, "I don't know. When I see a mark I just start cutting!"

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Sam Kennedy, the Torrance Renbrant, while singing in the bathtub last week, inflicted on his person a grievous wound. "It seems that in his musical ecstasy he grasped the porcelain turner-off faucet with too much of THAT and the blasted thing came apart in his hand . . . yea, AWAY in his hand. He had to pull pieces out with his other hand. And it WOULD be the only he paints with!"
Such a goin' on!!!

MISFORTUNE WHEEL

The Exalted Supreme Royal Brothers of the Noble and Ancient Order of the Kiwanis have a tidy little gadget that saves the Worthy President much wear and tear on the vocal cords when the latter serves notice on some erring member that he is to pay a fine for this or that. At the suggestion of newly-installed president Bob Deininger Sam Kennedy (there's that man again) painted up a wheel such as is used at country fairs and on which you DON'T win Kew-

King: Sale of two courts of six and eight units, two homes and a lot that will shortly be occupied by a new home. This business amounted to about $20,000, according to the young agent. He reports a good demand for property here and joins other realtors in pointing out the need for more listings. King has found but few rentals. Grubbs has purchased two lots at the intersection of El Dorado, Arlington and Engracia for development, and DeKalb Spurlock has acquired a corner piece at Maricopa and Amapola avenues with intention to build.
